

♣ CFW: SpeedRun – Episode 3

[Cold open – no music, handheld camera, small crowd packed into the Training Hall. The walls sweat with heat. The mat is scuffed. The air feels raw. CHAZ DEL RIO stands in the ring with his mic, sleeves rolled up.]

CHAZ DEL RIO:

"Welcome back to SpeedRun. No pyro, no stage, no excuses. This is where the hungry ones fight to prove they belong.

Tonight, we've got something special.

Lola Rose steps back into this ring, ready to show the world that heart can hit just as hard as steel.

And in the main event? Chris Titan. The name says it all — and tonight, he's here to remind every single person watching that this isn't a game.

This is SpeedRun. Let's get to work."

🏭 [Camera cuts to the first match as the crowd claps and stomps on the floorboards.

Gunner Wade vs. Ben Delaware

The Training Hall crowd was behind Delaware after his gutsy showing in their first encounter — but lightning struck twice. Gunner Wade came in heavier, meaner, and left no doubt. Every time Ben tried to rally, Wade cut him off with raw power: slams, clubbing shots, and a final spinebuster that rattled the boards.

Winner: Gunner Wade

Wade looks stronger than ever. Delaware showed heart, but it wasn't enough against Gunner's sheer force.

Lola Rose vs. Ruby Cross

Their first clash at Black Light Live put Lola Rose on the map. This time, she didn't just win — she owned the ring. Ruby fought hard, but Lola was sharper, faster, and more confident. A clean slam into her finish sealed it.

Winner: Lola Rose

A statement victory. Lola looked every bit the rising star, shining brighter than ever in the Training Hall.

Chris Titan vs. Zeke Cutter

Zeke Cutter came in swinging, but Chris Titan fought with heart, grit, and a sharp technical edge. Titan's career résumé brought him into CFW with big expectations, and tonight he finally hit that level. He countered Cutter at every turn, outwrestled him on the mat, and closed the show in style.

Winner: Chris Titan

– Titan's first win in CFW, and a statement one. He looked polished, confident, and every bit the force fans believed he could be.
