🎥 CFW: SpeedRun – Episode 2

The timer graphic glitches back to life as the crowd at The Foundry cheers on another slate of rising talent.

Chaz Del Rio (voiceover):
"Welcome back to SpeedRun — where the future of CFW runs fast, hits hard, and every roll could change a career."

Bert McDaniels:
"Episode two is stacked, and it all leads to our main event: Wyatt Storm taking on the high-flying Faze. That one's got fireworks written all over it."

Danny Virgo vs. Zeke Cutter

Coming off his debut win, Danny Virgo returned to SpeedRun with confidence, but Zeke Cutter had other plans. The two put on a competitive, back-and-forth match that showcased both men, but in the end Cutter caught Virgo slipping and scored the upset victory.

Winner: Zeke Cutter

Mira Steele vs. Lola Rose

In a heated rematch from last week, Mira Steele and Lola Rose went toe-to-toe in a tight, thrilling contest that had the Foundry crowd hanging on every move. Steele pushed harder this time, nearly stealing it, but Lola managed to squeak out another hard-fought victory.

Winner: Lola Rose

Main Event – Wyatt Storm vs. Faze

The Foundry was electric as Wyatt Storm and Faze delivered a main event that had the crowd on the edge of their seats. Faze's speed and aerial attacks nearly sealed the upset more than once, forcing Storm to dig deep. In the end, Wyatt's power and composure earned him the win — but the rookie impressed him so much that the two shared a show of respect afterward.

Winner: Wyatt Storm

🎥 Backstage – The Foundry

The camera cuts backstage where Lola Rose is sitting on a bench, still in her pink-and-black gear, sweaty but smiling as she packs her bag. The Foundry crowd buzzes faintly in the background.

An interviewer steps into frame.
Interviewer: "Lola Rose — congratulations on another big win tonight. That's two weeks in a row, and the crowd is firmly behind you."

(Lola nods, beaming, wiping sweat from her face.)

Interviewer: "And I've just been given word… You will officially have a match on an upcoming live episode of Black Light."

(The crowd in the arena reacts loud as they hear it over the feed. Lola's eyes widen, her smile breaking even bigger.)

Lola Rose: "Are you serious? That's… that's everything I've been fighting for! I can't wait — I'll be ready. Black Light, here I come!"

She throws her arms up, laughing and fired up, as the Foundry crowd chants her name. The camera lingers on her excitement as the screen fades to the SpeedRun logo to close the show.
