CFW BLACK LIGHT 40

The broadcast opens inside The Foundry. The camera sweeps across the crowd before settling on the ring, where Ace Dalton and Ronnie Kixx are already waiting.

Ronnie stands off to the side, shoulders slumped, his eyes fixed on the canvas. Ace is far more composed. He stands in the center of the ring with a microphone in hand, staring out into the crowd and fired up Foundry.

Bert McDaniels: "Welcome to Black Light 40. We are coming off a chaotic night at AFTERBURN, where Adam Stryker ended Ace Dalton's reign and became the new CFW World Champion."

Ace looks slightly annoyed. His expression is downright angry.

ACE DALTON

ACE DALTON WITH RONNIE KIXX

The camera moves tighter on Ace. His expression doesn't change.

Bert McDaniels: "And immediately after that match, Stryker had a few words for the former champion... and The Seers."

Ace turns his attention toward the screen.

Bert McDaniels: "Take a look."

Adam Stryker stands battered from the match, the CFW World Championship resting proudly over his shoulder.

A D A M S T R Y K E R

Adam Stryker: "Just like every time, Adam Stryker did EXACTLY what he said he'd do!" Stryker pats the championship. "SEVEN time world champion my friends. After Ace Dalton and The Seers tried to kick me out of CFW, after they damn near killed me in the ring or that one time in Venice Beach... I gave them, and Ace especially, a taste of their own medicine and took the only thing that made them relevant." Quick cut. "Maybe there are shortcuts, maybe there are desperate measures... But that desperation for success is what made me a champion over and over again. So I won't break that formula." One final cut. Stryker adjusts the championship on his shoulder. "So Ace, if you or any of your freaky buddies want a shot at this, take your place in the back of the line now. And MAR, old pal, whatever your appearance tonight was supposed to mean... Just stay out of my way." Stryker raises the championship. "The era of The Seers is over, no matter what their golden child or their long lost daddy have to say about it." The screen cuts to black.

OPENING SEGMENT
ACE DALTON WITH RONNIE KIXX

Back inside The Foundry, the camera settles on Ace. He slowly raises the microphone...

Crowd: "LONG LOST DADDY!" CLAP! CLAP! CLAP-CLAP-CLAP!

Crowd: "LONG LOST DADDY!" CLAP! CLAP! CLAP-CLAP-CLAP!

Ace suddenly snaps the microphone to his mouth.

Ace Dalton: "THIS! This right here is the problem!" The chant quickly turns to boos. "This is the problem with you people. This is the problem with Adam Stryker. You don't know who the hell you're dealing with." Ace points toward the screen. "And unfortunately, that's the nature of what we are. Adam Stryker doesn't know who MAR is. He doesn't know who The Seers are. He doesn't know what this company means. He doesn't know what that championship means." Ace pauses, shaking his head. "But he likes to shoot his mouth off like he does."

The crowd boos louder. Ace looks toward Ronnie before turning back to them.

OPENING SEGMENT
ACE DALTON WITH
RONNIE KIXX

Ace Dalton: "Misunderstanding MAR? That's forgivable. Hell, I misunderstood MAR for a long time. So Adam, I can forgive you for that." His expression hardens. "What I won't forgive is the disrespect." Ace steps toward the ropes, staring directly into the hard camera. "If you have no idea who that man is... if you have no idea what he's sacrificed... then shut the hell up." The Foundry erupts.

Crowd: "BOOOOOOOOOO!"

Ace lowers the microphone and looks around at them with disgust. Ronnie remains silent behind him. Ace waits for the noise to settle before continuing, his voice quieter now.

Ace Dalton: "Adam Stryker doesn't know MAR." A pause. "But Adam Stryker knows Ace Dalton." Ace points to himself. "You know exactly who the hell I am." His composure begins to crack again. "I'm the man you couldn't beat." The crowd reacts. "Go home, Adam. Put that championship on the table. Stand in front of a mirror and look yourself in the eyes." Ace moves closer to the camera. "And tell yourself the truth." A beat. "That man looking back at you couldn't beat Ace Dalton." Ace's jaw tightens. "Not without wrapping a rope around my neck." A roar rolls through The Foundry. "You admitted it yourself. Shortcuts. Desperate measures. You said desperation is what made you a champion over and over again." Ace gives a small nod. "I believe you." He lets that hang. "Because that's the difference between you and me, Adam." Ace points toward the screen again. "Desperation is your formula." He brings the microphone closer, almost speaking through gritted teeth. "For me?"

A pause. "It's an option."

Ace lets those words sit for a moment.

Ace Dalton: "And maybe I've spent too much time expecting people like you to understand what The Seers are."

The anger begins to leave his voice. Something colder replaces it.

OPENING SEGMENT
ACE DALTON WITH
RONNIE KIXX

Ace Dalton: "So right here, right now, as the man who leads The Seers... I don't need to speak in riddles." Ace glances toward Ronnie. "I don't need to hide behind prophecy. I don't need to give you any more of that wind talk bullshit."

Ace turns back toward the hard camera.

Ace Dalton: "I'll make you a promise instead." A pause. "The Seers will hold gold again sooner than any of you realize."

The crowd reacts, but Ace doesn't acknowledge them.

Ace Dalton: "And Adam..." His eyes narrow. "When that impostor syndrome finally gets the best of you—and it will—when you're lying awake staring at that championship wondering if you can actually beat me..." Ace steps closer to the camera.

Ace Dalton: "Come find out."

A pause.

Ace Dalton: "Or don't wait. Tomorrow. Next week. Anytime you muster enough courage to need the answer." Ace's jaw tightens. "I'll stand toe-to-toe with your delusional ass and give it to you."

He stares directly into the camera.

Ace Dalton: "You didn't end the era of The Seers."

A pause.

Ace Dalton: "You just made yourself part of it." Ace's expression goes cold.

Ace Dalton: "And when the time comes..."

He points toward the blank screen where Stryker was shown moments earlier.

Ace Dalton: "...I'm taking back what belongs to us."

MATCH 1

CIARAN KENNEDY vs WYATT STORM

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Non-Title Match

The broadcast resets as Ace Dalton and Ronnie Kixx make their way to the back. The camera settles on Bert McDaniels and Chaz at commentary.

Bert McDaniels: "A lot to unpack there, but one thing is certain. At AFTERBURN, Adam Stryker lived up to his reputation. Seven-time World Champion."

Chaz Del Rio: "He did. Ace may not like how he got there, but Stryker walked into AFTERBURN with a promise and walked out with the World Championship."

Bert McDaniels: "And we're starting tonight with a rematch from Black Light 39. Ciaran Kennedy defeated Wyatt Storm that night, when Storm was still the number one contender to the World Championship."

Chaz Del Rio: "There was a lot of respect between them that night. But I'll tell you what I find peculiar, Bert. Ciaran Kennedy's attitude at AFTERBURN."

A brief pause.

"Warrior" by Atreyu hits.

Huge pops as Wyatt Storm steps out.

WYATT STORM

MATCH 1

CIARAN KENNEDY vs
WYATT STROM

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Non-Title Match

CIARAN KENNEDY

Bert: "I understand doing whatever it takes to become champion. But the way Ciaran won the Black Light Championship hasn't sat right with me either. We'll hear from former champion Savior Hawkins later tonight."

Chaz: "Wyatt Storm is a CFW original, and tonight he's looking to score a win over the new Black Light Champion."

Storm paces his corner as the music fades. A few moments pass.

"Fix Ur Face" by MGK & Fred Durst hits.

The reaction is mixed as Kennedy steps through the curtain, the Black Light Championship fastened around his waist. He looks focused as he starts toward the ring.

Chaz: "Say what you want about how he did it, Ciaran Kennedy got the job done at AFTERBURN. He took that championship from Savior Hawkins."

Bert: "And in Kennedy's defense, he's been on a hell of a run in CFW."

Chaz: "Which is exactly why breaking the rules to win it rubbed people the wrong way."

MATCH 1

CIARAN KENNEDY vs WYATT STROM

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Non-Title Match

Kennedy reaches ringside, removes the Black Light Championship and hands it off before stepping through the ropes.

A short time later, the introductions are complete and both men stand across from one another.

Wyatt steps forward and offers his hand.

Kennedy looks down at it. Then back at Wyatt.

No handshake.

Kennedy simply backs into his corner, eyes never leaving Storm.

Chaz: "Okay. That's different."

Bert: "He's certainly got an edge to him tonight. But whatever is going through Ciaran Kennedy's head, when that bell rings, you're still looking at one of the best wrestlers in CFW."

DING! DING! DING!

They circle before locking up. Kennedy immediately tries to impose himself, driving Storm backward, but Wyatt twists free and catches him with an arm drag. Kennedy is straight back up.

Another lockup. This time Kennedy catches Wyatt coming out of it and snaps him over with a quick suplex.

Storm rolls through and gets right back to his feet. A brief stare. The crowd responds. They go again.

Wyatt picks up the pace, slipping a clothesline and hitting the ropes. Kennedy catches him on the rebound, but Storm twists free before Kennedy can plant him. Wyatt fires a kick to the thigh. Kennedy answers with a sharp forearm. Neither gives ground.

Bert: "Very evenly matched. We saw that at Black Light 39."

Chaz: "And I think Wyatt has something to prove tonight. He lost his shot at the World Championship, and the last time he stood across from Kennedy, Ciaran beat him."

MATCH 1

CIARAN KENNEDY vs
WYATT STROM

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Non-Title Match

Wyatt suddenly explodes forward with a fast combination, finishing with a dropkick that sends Kennedy through the ropes to the floor.

Storm hits the ropes... Kennedy moves. Wyatt sees it in time and stops himself at the ropes.

Kennedy looks up at him from the floor. Wyatt gives him a small nod. Kennedy doesn't return it.

Kennedy remains on the floor. Wyatt stares down at him, clearly taking some offense to the cold response. This time, Storm doesn't wait.

He slips through the ropes and goes after Kennedy.

The pace immediately gets more physical. Wyatt drives Kennedy into the barricade, but Kennedy keeps his composure. When Storm charges again, Kennedy sidesteps him and sends Wyatt shoulder-first into the ring post. Wyatt grabs his shoulder and winces. Kennedy notices it. And doesn't forget it.

He rolls Storm back inside and goes to work on the shoulder, wrenching the arm before driving it hard into the mat. Wyatt tries to create distance, only for Kennedy to drag him back and hammer the shoulder again.

Bert: "There's the difference right now. Wyatt got frustrated. Kennedy stayed focused."

DEEPER INTO THE MATCH...

As the match wears on, control has shifted back and forth.

Now, the pace begins to open

Storm fights through the damage and forces Kennedy to keep pace. A springboard forearm rocks the champion. Kennedy answers with a release Dragon Suplex. Wyatt survives. The Foundry is split now, both men earning reactions as momentum swings back and forth. Kennedy attacks the shoulder whenever an opening presents itself. Wyatt answers with speed, never staying close enough for Kennedy to control him for long...

BACKSTAGE
ADAM STRYKER
CFW WORLD CHAMPION

We cut to a backstage area. Adam Stryker is there, in jeans and an unbuttoned black henley, the CFW World Championship proudly resting on his shoulder. He gives the camera a surprisingly warm smile.

"Cute, Acey. Very cute," he says and nods.

"I saw that little speech you made. And you sounded like the delusional little brat you are. You're saying I couldn't beat you... Well, this thing says otherwise," he glances at the title, then back at the camera.

ADAM STRYKER

"I was there alone, you had the backing of The Seers... And you still ended up choked out and beaten. And I'm afraid that after damn near killing me with that buggy a few months ago, you shouldn't really question my methods and the ways HOW I choked you out, can you?" he raises an eyebrow, looking like he's teaching Ace a lesson.

"Ace, my boy... Adam Stryker is not JUST the man who beat Ace Dalton."

"Adam Stryker is the man who beat The Seers, and at their own game no less. And when the time comes?" He steps closer to the camera. "I'll do that all over again. And this time I won't leave you in a good enough state to crawl into MY ring and bitch about it again." Stryker walks off as we cut to Maya Torres.

BACKSTAGE
SAVIOR HAWKINS
INTERVIEW

SAVIOR HAWKINS

Savior Hawkins: "I mean, Maya, what can I say? Me and Ciaran just know how to create five star classics!" Savior flashes a playful smile and winks at the camera before turning his attention back to Maya. "My opinion of Ciaran hasn't changed. If anything, I'm disappointed. He's a great wrestler. I've faced a lot of great wrestlers in my career, but Ciaran has a way of pushing me harder than most. He reminds me how much the Standard of Excellence means to me. Being excellent inside that sacred coliseum." Reflective pause. "But I guess Ciaran couldn't handle that standard. He had to beat me down and cheat his way to that championship. I watched it back. He knew exactly what he did, and he accepted it." Pause "So Ciaran, I hope you're happy with your title, because now you're the target. I could say a lot more about you and your actions, but that would mean I'm emotional about what happened. I'm not. I'm just disappointed in a man I respected." Savior looks back toward Maya with a confident grin. "I guess not everyone can handle the pressure that comes with the Standard of Excellence. Either way... it's showtime, Maya!"

Maya Torres: "I'm standing backstage with former Black Light Champion Savior Hawkins. Savior, thank you for giving me a few minutes before your match tonight."

Maya Torres: "You and Ciaran Kennedy have had some of the most competitive matches we've seen in CFW, but there's always been a level of respect between the two of you. After the way he defeated you for the Black Light Championship at AfterBurn, has your opinion of Ciaran Kennedy changed?"

MATCH 2

ÁGUILA FERAL vs
SAVIOR HAWKINS

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Singles Match

ÁGUILA FERAL

Back at ringside, the night rolls on.

Bert: "Ciaran Kennedy's hot streak continues with another impressive win over Wyatt Storm."

Chaz: "The win was impressive. Walking away from Wyatt's handshake? Not so much."

Bert: "It didn't sit well with me either, but I'm not ready to read too much into it. Savior Hawkins clearly has his own thoughts on Kennedy, and we just heard them."

A short time passes as The Foundry resets for the next match.

The lights begin to fall.

"Slipping Away" - The Seers' theme hits.

Águila Feral steps through the curtain.

MATCH 2

ÁGUILA FERAL vs SAVIOR HAWKINS

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Singles Match

Bert: "Speaking of hot streaks, Águila Feral has quietly put together one of the best records in CFW."

Feral starts down the aisle, the masked Seer cutting an imposing figure beneath the dim lights.

The crowd boos over The Seers theme

Chaz: "And it goes beyond his singles record. Feral and Killjoy are the last undefeated team in CFW. Nobody has beaten them together."

Bert: "From the beginning, Águila Feral has been one of the most dominant presences in this company."

Feral reaches ringside as the haunting theme continues through The Foundry.

Feral steps into the ring as the music fades.

A brief pause.

"The Safest Ledge"
by Healing Pool hits.

The Foundry comes alive as former Black Light Champion Savior Hawkins steps through the curtain.

Bert: "And here comes the former champion."

SAVIOR HAWKINS

MATCH 2

ÁGUILA FERAL vs SAVIOR HAWKINS

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Singles Match

Savior starts toward the ring, eyes locked on Feral.

Chaz: "This is a rematch from SpeedRun 7. Savior got the victory that night, and after losing the Black Light Championship at AFTERBURN, another win over Águila Feral would be a hell of a way to start building momentum again."

Bert: "And Savior Hawkins is a man who wants gold back around his waist. A win tonight puts him right back on that road."

Savior reaches ringside, Feral watching him from inside the ring.

A short time later, the ring introductions are complete.

Savior and Feral stand across from one another. Neither takes his eyes off the other.

The referee signals.

DING! DING! DING!

They explode out of their corners.

Feral fires first with a vicious kick. Savior catches the next and sweeps the leg, but Feral rolls through and is already moving. He hits the ropes. Savior follows. Feral ducks underneath. Savior leapfrogs him.

They cross again...

Feral suddenly changes levels and drives Savior to the mat with a takedown. Savior immediately scrambles free. Both men back up. The Foundry pops.

Chaz: "Good luck keeping up with this."

Feral doesn't give Savior a second to reset.

A sharp combination backs Hawkins toward the ropes before Feral launches him across the ring. Savior rebounds and answers with a flying forearm.

MATCH 2

ÁGUILA FERAL vs SAVIOR HAWKINS

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Singles Match

Feral rolls outside. Savior hits the ropes... TOPE SUICIDA!

Both men crash into the barricade. As the opening minutes burn away, the pace finally begins to settle. Feral takes control. He cuts Savior down with a brutal leg kick, follows with a snap suplex, then immediately smothers Hawkins on the mat. Every time Savior tries to create space, Feral closes it.

Bert: "This is where Águila Feral is so dangerous. The speed gets your attention, then suddenly you're trapped underneath him."

Feral drives a knee into Savior's ribs and covers.

ONE! TWO!

Savior kicks out, but Feral pulls him straight back up and fires another strike. Savior blocks it and answers with a forearm. Feral fires back, but Hawkins keeps coming, winning the exchange with a kick to the body and a jumping knee.

Feral stumbles back. Savior pushes forward with a clothesline, then another that sends Feral into the corner. Hawkins charges, but Feral moves!

Savior catches himself against the turnbuckles. Feral rushes in, but Hawkins slips underneath and sends him shoulder-first into the post. For the first time in several minutes, Feral is the one trying to recover.

Bert: "Here comes Hawkins."

The crowd rises as Savior starts building momentum. Then, a commotion in the front row pulls his attention away. Savior looks over. He sees him. Ciaran Kennedy. Kennedy steps over the guardrail with something in his hand. Savior moves to the ropes, staring down at the Black Light Champion.

Kennedy holds up a black T-shirt. A confused Savior looks from the shirt to Kennedy. Ciaran tosses it up to him. Savior catches it...

MATCH 2

ÁGUILA FERAL vs
SAVIOR HAWKINS

20 MIN TIME LIMIT | Singles Match

Bert: "What the hell is Kennedy doing, Chaz? He's out here again, and he just threw Savior a shirt?"

Chaz: "I don't know."

Savior looks down at Kennedy, genuinely confused. The Foundry is on its feet. He looks at the shirt and unfolds it. The camera can only see the back. Savior's expression changes.

ALARIDO MORTAL!

Feral comes out of nowhere, springboarding in and twisting a knee flush into Savior's skull! Hawkins drops. Kennedy remains outside, watching with his back to the camera.

Bert: "Damn it! Feral just dropped him!"

Chaz: "What the hell is going on?"

Feral drops into the cover as Kennedy slowly makes his way up the ring steps

CALLAGHAN
BACK FROM BREAK

CALLAGHAN

Back from break, Bert and Chaz are still trying to process what just happened.

Bert: "We'll have plenty more to say about Ciaran Kennedy and The Seers. Right now, I'm not sure I have anything good to say."

The screen changes to CALLAGHAN, drawing a pop from The Foundry.

Chaz: "Here's something we can feel good about."

Bert: "That's right. We're proud to announce Callaghan has officially joined CFW."

Chaz: "A veteran who's been through wars, and when that old fire shows itself, there aren't many tougher."

Bert: "And we won't have to wait long. Callaghan makes his CFW debut at SpeedRun 10 against the returning Dominic Hex."

Chaz: "Hex once put together one of the longest undefeated runs in CFW. He's coming back, and Callaghan is waiting for him."

A brief pause.

Bert: "All right, folks, settle in. It's time for our main event."

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
NO TIME LIMIT | MAIN EVENT

The broadcast cuts backstage, where CFW World Champion Sudio has settled in to watch the main event.

Bert: "There she is, our World Champion. And tonight's main event was her idea."

Chaz: "Sudio has held that championship for 247 days, Bert. She wants to be a fighting champion, and she wants the very best standing across from her."

Bert: "She competed in the first women's gauntlet at Crossroads. Her best friend Lena Wilde won that night. Things got a little ugly between them afterward, but they persevered."

Chaz: "Tonight Sudio doesn't care if it's a CFW original or somebody walking into The Foundry for the first time. Win this gauntlet, and you've earned your shot at her."

Chaz: "Six women, one championship opportunity. Bert, walk us through how this thing works."

SUDIO

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
NO TIME LIMIT | MAIN EVENT

Bert: "Before the show, the dice were rolled to determine the entry order for all six women."

"Two women will start the gauntlet. From there, the only way to eliminate your opponent is by pinfall or submission."

"The winner stays in the ring and immediately faces the next entrant. That continues until five women have been eliminated and only one is left standing."

"That survivor becomes the new number one contender to the CFW Women's World Championship, with a guaranteed championship match against Sudio."

"And there's one more thing. We know five of the women entering this gauntlet."

"The sixth has not been announced."

The camera pans across The Foundry as the ring announcer makes it official. The Women's Gauntlet will determine the new number one contender.

Chaz: "Here we go. Let's see who rolled number one. Not a spot anybody wanted."

The lights drop.

"Slipping Away" by The Seers hits.

The Foundry erupts in boos.

Bert: "It's Brandi Blight!"

Chaz: "Like you said, Bert, she cannot be happy about that roll."

Brandi enters the ring as her music fades.

The crowd turns toward the entrance.

Who rolled the 2nd spot?...

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
BRANDI BLIGHT vs LENA WILDE
NO TIME LIMIT | ROUND 1

BRANDI BLIGHT

LENA WILDE

Misery Business” by Paramore hits. The Foundry ERUPTS.

Chaz: “LENA!”

Lena Wilde steps through the curtain.

Bert: “Folks, this could get unhinged. We don’t have to tell you this is the most bitter rivalry in CFW.”

Chaz: “That’s putting it mildly. This company was built, in part, on the back of this rivalry. A hatred that began years ago in Iron Ring Pro and became something almost biblical here in CFW.”

Lena heads toward the ring, eyes locked on Brandi. Brandi stares right back.

Bert: “And now, by pure chance, they rolled spots one and two.”

Chaz: “Here we go again.”

Lena enters the ring. The bell rings.

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
BRANDI BLIGHT vs LENA WILDE
NO TIME LIMIT | ROUND 1

For several minutes, it is the match everyone expected. Brandi wrestles with precision, controlling Lena on the mat and punishing her with suplexes and sharp strikes. Lena refuses to stay there, dragging Brandi into a rougher fight and answering with palm strikes, knees and a DDT that gets two.

But something is wrong with Brandi.

There is no arrogance tonight. No smirk. No satisfaction when she hurts Lena. Every time Wilde gets back to her feet, Brandi looks at her with absolute disgust.

The match continues, but Brandi becomes increasingly vicious. She stops taking clean openings. She passes up covers. She presses her forearm across Lena's face until the referee physically pulls her away, then immediately goes back to her.

Bert: "Look at her."

Brandi mounts Lena and rains down strikes. Lena covers up. Brandi keeps hitting her.

Chaz: "Bert, I don't think she cares about the gauntlet."

Lena somehow fights upright and catches her with a brutal palm strike.

Brandi barely reacts.

She grabs Lena.

Both arms close around her throat.

Lena fights desperately as the referee counts.

ONE! TWO! THREE! FOUR! FIVE!

Nothing.

DING! DING! DING!

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
LENA WILDE vs ROKKIT
NO TIME LIMIT | ROUND 2

GAUNTLET RESULTS

Continuing: Lena Wilde
Eliminated: Brandi Blight
Next Entry: Rokkit

Officials swarm Brandi and finally rip her away from Lena. The disqualification gives Lena the victory, but Brandi doesn't care. She fights them the entire way, still trying to get back at Lena, until she is physically dragged through the curtain and out of The Foundry.

Lena hasn't moved.

R O K K I T

Chaz: "They just left her in the middle of the ring. What are we doing here?"

"Slipping Away" by The Seers hits again. The reaction changes immediately as Rokkit steps through the curtain.

Bert: "Rokkit?! Rokkit is the mystery entrant! We haven't seen her in some time."

Bert: "And Lena still hasn't moved. I'm afraid of what's about to happen, Chaz."

Rokkit heads straight for the ring. She steps through the ropes, looks down at the motionless Lena Wilde, and the referee reluctantly calls for the bell. Rokkit wastes no time. She climbs to the top rope and launches herself across the ring. ROCKET LAUNCH! Both knees crash into Lena's chest. Rokkit hooks the legs. ONE! TWO! THREE! DING! DING! DING! Rokkit has picked the bones clean. Lena Wilde is eliminated. Rokkit advances.

MATCH 3

ROKKIT vs MIRROR
NO TIME LIMIT | ROUND 3

MIRROR

Mirror emerges, calm and expressionless, her attention fixed entirely on the ring.

Bert: "And here comes someone we have never seen compete in CFW. Mirror makes her in-ring debut tonight."

Chaz: "Sudio said the doors were open. Anyone who wanted a shot at her championship was welcome to come fight for it. Mirror took her up on it."

Officials help Lena from the ring as Rokkit watches from the corner. After the chaos of the opening two rounds, The Foundry finally gets a moment to reset.

Rokkit paces the ring, catching her breath.

Then the lights dim.

"My Demons" by Starset hits.

GAUNTLET RESULTS

Continuing : Rokkit

Eliminated: Lena Wilde

Next Entry: Mirror

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
ROKKIT vs MIRROR
NO TIME LIMIT | ROUND 3

Bert: "Five-eight, one hundred sixty-five pounds. She calls herself The Reflection, and from what we know, she is a precision powerhouse. No wasted movement. No wasted energy."

Mirror enters. Rokkit bounces on her toes across the ring.

DING! DING! DING!

Rokkit immediately uses her speed. Giving up seven inches and more than fifty pounds, she stays in motion, attacking Mirror's legs with quick kicks and darting away before Mirror can get hold of her. It works until Mirror catches her off the ropes and plants her with Shattered Image for a two-count.

The match develops around that difference. Mirror patiently closes the distance, using her strength to control Rokkit whenever she catches her. Rokkit refuses to stay there. She slips free, fights from underneath and explodes in short bursts, landing a dropkick and running knee that finally put Mirror down.

Chaz: "Rokkit's making her work for every inch of this."

Rokkit follows with a swinging neckbreaker for a close two. The Foundry gets behind her as she keeps pressing, but Mirror never loses her composure. Rokkit's speed has kept her alive. Mirror is simply waiting for the moment she can catch her.

Rokkit charges off the ropes one more time.

This time, Mirror does.

She launches Rokkit into the air, catches her on the way down and drives her into the canvas with REFLECTION POINT!

ONE! TWO! THREE!

Rokkit made Mirror work for it, but the size difference finally caught up with her.

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
MIRROR vs SELINA S.

Rokkit rolls from the ring as Mirror remains seated on the canvas. She takes a long breath before pulling herself back to her feet. One match down, but there is no time to recover.

Continuing : Mirror

Eliminated: Rokkit

Next Entry: Selina S.

“Obsessed” by Mariah Carey hits.

SELINA SANTORINO

Selina Santorino steps out in sunglasses, taking her time and making sure every camera in The Foundry gets a good look.

Chaz: “Of course she’s enjoying this. Mirror’s already been through a fight.”

The gauntlet resets...

DING! DING! DING!

The matchup is far more physically matched.

Selina immediately shows how versatile she is. She trades holds with Mirror, switches to strikes when Mirror gains control, then takes to the air with a springboard crossbody for two.

Minutes pass, and Selina begins targeting the real difference between them: Mirror is tired. She forces her to work, constantly changing pace while finding time to smirk into the cameras whenever she gains control.

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
MIRROR vs SELINA S.
NO TIME LIMIT | ROUND 4

Mirror still has the power advantage. Shattered Image gets a close two, but Selina responds with a sudden Pumphandle X-Factor!

ONE! TWO! MIRROR SURVIVES!

Selina sees her opening. She climbs to the second rope, poses for the hard camera and launches Hit the Like Button!

Mirror rolls clear.

Selina crashes into the canvas.

Both women struggle up. Selina swings first. Mirror ducks, catches her and somehow finds enough strength to pop Selina into the air.

REFLECTION POINT!

Mirror collapses into the cover.

ONE! TWO! THREE!

Mirror has done it, but barely.

Selina Santorino all but had her.

Bert: "Two down for Mirror. One woman left."

Mirror remains on the canvas, exhausted after barely surviving Selina.

Chaz: "And unfortunately for Mirror, we all know exactly who that woman is."

Bert: "Shayna Vex. Possibly the worst-case scenario for someone who has already fought through Rokkit and Selina Santorino."

Chaz: "And get this. Shayna rolled the final entry in the first Women's Gauntlet too."

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
MIRROR vs SHAYNA VEX
NO TIME LIMIT | FINAL ROUND

GAUNTLET RESULTS

Continuing : Mirror
Eliminated: Selina S.
Final Entry: Shayna Vex

Chaz: "And get this. Shayna rolled the final entry in the first Women's Gauntlet too."

Bert: "It didn't work out for her that night. She had every advantage and still walked away empty-handed. You think she's forgotten that?"

SHAYNA VEX

Mirror pulls herself up using the ropes and turns toward the entrance.

Chaz: "Not a chance. If anything, that just means the chip on Shayna Vex's shoulder is even bigger tonight." A moment.

SHAYNA VEX'S MUSIC HITS.

Mirror closes her eyes for just a moment.

Then she turns to face the entrance.

Bert: "Here we go. One more woman. One more match. A shot at Sudio waiting on the other side."

MATCH 3
WOMEN'S GAUNTLET
MIRROR vs SHAYNA VEX
NO TIME LIMIT | FINAL ROUND

The Gauntlet resets one last time. DING! DING! DING!

Almost immediately, it looks like Mirror's run is over.

Shayna tears into the exhausted Mirror with stiff kicks, knees and takedowns, giving her almost no opportunity to recover. Mirror's size allows her to fight free in bursts, but Shayna keeps dragging her back into the clinch or onto the mat. Minutes pass and Mirror is surviving more than competing.

Chaz: "This is exactly what you feared. Shayna Vex is fresh, and Mirror has nothing left."

Mirror finally creates an opening with Shattered Image, but even that only buys her time. Shayna is back on her quickly, hammering her with another combination before taking her down and finding the neck.

CHOKE REFLEX!

Shayna grapevines Mirror and cinches it in. Mirror fights, fades, then somehow drags enough of herself across the canvas to reach the ropes. Shayna releases. And just stares at her.

Bert: "Not again. Shayna has been here before in the first gauntlet. She had an exhausted Lena Wilde trapped in the Choke Reflex at Crossroads and couldn't finish her. Now Mirror just survived it too."

Shayna is still the fresher woman. Still doing most of the damage. But now every opening becomes another attempt to get back to the Choke Reflex. Mirror escapes once. Shayna gets more aggressive. Mirror blocks another. For the first time all night, the cold, disciplined Vex begins forcing things that aren't there.

Chaz: "She had this gauntlet in her hands. Now she's fighting something that happened over a year ago."

A brutal knee leaves Mirror barely standing. Shayna could finish her another way. Instead, she takes the back again. Mirror knows exactly what is coming. Shayna reaches for the choke...

Mirror catches the arm, turns underneath and summons everything she has left. REFLECTION POINT!
